Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art taken alone or in combination neither discloses nor makes obvious the instant invention including forming a gate electrode on a semiconductor substrate, the gate electrode having a metallic silicide layer, a metallic polysilicon layer under the metallic silicide layer, and a SiN layer on the metallic silicide layer, and after said forming of the gate electrode including the SiN layer, decreasing grain boundaries on a surface of the metallic silicide layer, at least a portion of the surface of the metallic silicide layer being exposed, said decreasing of the grain boundaries comprising performing a heat treatment on the metallic silicide layer in an atmosphere consisting of a mixture gas of chief elements of nitrogen and ammonia and an oxidizable gas. For example, the prior art reference used, Enomoto et al (US 2003/0032284 A!), discloses forming a gate electrode on a semiconductor substrate 1, the gate electrode having a metallic silicide layer 13, a metallic polysilicon layer 7 under the metallic silicide layer (Figures 3 and 4, and Paragraphs 0069, 0072, and 0073), decreasing grain boundaries on a surface of the metallic silicide layer, at least a portion of the surface of the metallic silicide layer being exposed, said decreasing of the grain boundaries comprising performing a heat treatment on the metallic silicide layer in an atmosphere consisting of a mixture gas of chief elements of nitrogen and ammonia and an oxidizable gas (Figure 8, and Paragraphs 0072, 0073, 0093, 0098, and 0134), and then, forming a SiN layer 15 on the metallic silicide layer (Figure 4, and Paragraph 0073), as opposed to what is recited in the claims of the instant invention, i.e., Enomoto et al does not teach performing the decreasing after formation of the gate electrode including the SiN layer. Therefore, the prior art of record neither anticipates nor renders obvious the claimed subject matter.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
